

CASE STUDY

ROK - BRIGHTON

Portsdown
Office Limited

Brief

ROK's Management team, wanted to create a vibrant and energising environment that will help change the culture and mindset of the building industry.

Our Solutions

In conjunction with a London based Interior Design Practice, we developed a range of products to suit the various application areas within the office i.e. teaming, tasking, relax, meeting etc.

Implementation

The fit-out was taken in-house with ROK's own build team who built to the design and specification with great attention to detail. Furniture solutions were backed up by onsite training and team meetings to ensure option performance for the team when they took occupation.

Clients View

"Whilst we had some ideas as to how to create a modern, vibrant working environment for the team, the input from the Portsdown team was invaluable in helping us to achieve our vision. It was refreshing that they were flexible in their approach and were prepared to listen to our ideas and to accommodate our preferences. The end result is a stunning environment that is valued by the team and customers alike."
